The first foreign solicitor's office in Bulgaria registered on basis of valid law on advocacy became PETERKA & PARTNERS (P&P). Registration procedure was carried parallely with discussions that Bulgarian and foreign offices were leading for more than a year, concerning the forms of services provided by foreign solicitor's offices in the country.

“We are happy to manage that our solicitor's office has been registered in a full accord with the Bulgarian bar regulations. We believe that this fact would stimulate credibility of our office and that it can support our effort to become an respected competitors for Bulgarian solicitor's offices,” said Ondřej Peterka, founder and managing partner of P&P. “It is a step in right direction, not just for our solicitor's office, but also for the legal and commercial environment in Bulgaria, which gradually becomes harmonised with other EU countries, added director of the Bulgarian P&P office Martin Vacek.

Since its foundation in 2000 the P&P solicitor's office became respected legal firm in Central European and Eastern European area. Today it employs 70 lawyers in 4 branches in Prague, Bratislava, Kiev and Sofia. Leading publications focussing on legal services market like Chambers, Legal500 and IFLR regularly rate the P&P among the best solicitor's offices in several fields of the law.
