The results of the current omnibus survey, which was recently carried out by GfK Slovakia, show that almost half of Slovaks is planning to invest in making cosy their own housing over the next 12 months. Most commonly it regards to painting the interior or exterior of an apartment or house, reconstruction, renewal or overall modernization of households. Only less than 4 percent of respondents expressed that in the next twelve months intend to buy a land, house, apartment, weekend living, garden or garage.
