Digital Park on the Einsteinova Street in Petržalka, Bratislava has obtained this year's Dušan Jurkovič Award. In the 45th anniversary year of its existence, the international panel awarded the work of international authors for the first time, emphasizing their contribution to the context of contemporary architecture in Slovakia. Digital Park is the work of the Czech authors Jakub Cigler, Vincent Marani, Petr Kužela, Ondřej Hrozinka, Tomáš Bím and Jan Hofman. The panel appreciated the overall concept of the new administrative complex attached to the northern section of Petržalka. According to the panel, this work is among the most impressive new buildings in Bratislava.
