In the town of Ružomberok ought to grow a new industrial park. The self-administration has developed a revitalization project of the area of Slovakian bus transportation in Bystrická Street. The construction, which should begin in April 2010, will require 10 million €. The cost of the entire project wants the town to finance in cooperation with the Slovak Agency for Investment and Trade Development (SARIO) and from own sources provide about 300 thousand €. The industrial area should be used especially for transportation and logistics companies, manufacturing and distribution of building materials.
