The Bratislava Faculty Hospital with Polyclinic Rázsochy should be completed. That is the recommendation of the Ministry of Health based on audits carried out. Preliminary cost of the project, including design and technological amenities was evaluated to 480 million Euro, VAT excluded. The completion should bring the top university facility with the total capacity of about 900 beds and a high level of operating rooms equipment, as well as urgent and intensive medicine. Since the original project failed to ensure the current building standards, it was necessary to develop a new architectural study.
