“It has been agreed with the city management to postpone the event date of the PRAGUE REAL EXPO fair due to an important foreign trip of Mr Bém - Prague mayor - at the time of the planned fair,” answered Dušan Kunovský from CENTRAL GROUP, organizer of the fair to Stavební fórum. The fair of “property, development and investment opportunities was supposed to take place in the second half of April. One of its aims was to present Prague as an attractive investment as well as touristic destination. It was therefore expected that the event will be under the auspices of the city mayor. “It should be decided within the following weeks whether the event will take place this year in autumn or next spring. In any case we as well as the city representatives are still counting with organizing the event,” commented D. Kunovský on the postponement.
