After more than ten years, Milorad Miškovič is leaving the company Karlin Group where he participated in management of a number of development projects, mainly in Prague's suburb of Karlín. In his own words, Miškovič will remain company shareholder and co-owner. "I would especially like to thank Mr Serge Borenstein, co-founder and president of the company and Mr Marc Rich, owner of Marc Rich+Co and co-founder of Karlin Group for their endless support and enriching co-operation during my time in the company's management," said Miškovič who is entering a "new phase in his journey through life" according to the press release published yesterday [ie. 13th Dec.].
