

SF Club

The Stavební Fórum Club is a communication platform for readers, cooperating persons and supporters of the e-magazine Stavební fórum. It offers its members:

- daily distribution of the magazine's news and published articles
- significant discounts on the membership fees for conferences, discussion meetings and other events organized by the magazine
- discounts on Stavební fórum's marketing and advertising services

Membership rules

Club membership starts at the time of crediting of the membership fee to the account of Stavební fórum's publisher (236972287/0300 ČSOB) and lasts for one calendar year. If Club membership is not terminated in writing, it shall be automatically extended by another calendar year. The membership authorizes its holder to use all of the benefits that the Club provides to its members.

Member discounts

Discounts on participation fees for events organized by the magazine can be only paid on the basis of personal participation, i.e. they do not apply to corporate participation and other special offers. As for companies, we have a special bonus system in case of participation of 3 and more persons from one company.
